

The We Are All New York Fellowship is currently accepting applications from New York City nonprofit, faith, government, and community leaders for its 2019-2020 cohort. The We Are All New York Fellowship is a professional development and networking program geared towards strengthening local leaders, agencies, and the city as a whole. This cohort will meet from September 2019 through June 2020.

The application deadline for the 2019-2020 cohort of We Are All New York is Thursday, July 11th at 4:00 PM. Sponsoring agencies pay a fee of $100 per participant. If the fee affects your agency's ability to support a participant, please contact thecenteratjrcny@gmail.com to explore an alternate arrangement.

Fellowship Highlights

- Participate in monthly skill-building seminars and improve core nonprofit and professional skill sets
- Participate in monthly committee meetings focused on community organizing or social media marketing around the 2020 Census
- Network and build relationships with organizations, professionals and leaders across New York City
- Engage in dialogues centered on community issues on both a borough and citywide level
- Gain access to additional resources and best practices
- Become intimately involved with community engagement efforts around the 2020 Census

Fellowship Objectives

The We Are All New York Fellowship connects professionals with fellow leaders and experts in the non-profit, faith, government and community arenas. Through 10 months of professional and community development training sessions and group activities, Fellows will achieve the following objectives:

- Leadership & Professional Skills: Strengthen nonprofit professional skills and gain a better understanding of personal leadership style
- Partnership Building: Improve ability to establish meaningful relationships and sustainable partnerships with other the diverse civic, ethnic, faith, and communal leaders of New York City
- Community Awareness: Increase awareness of existing communities, cultures, and agencies in New York City, as well as the issues they face
- Professional Use of Self: Improve understanding and awareness of one's role within their organization and effectively use one's knowledge and skills
- Cultural Humility: Increase awareness and appreciation of diversity within the communities of New York City, and understand how to utilize this diversity as an asset to one's self, agency, community, and the city as a whole
- Networking: Have the ability to engage with the Fellowship network – comprised of Fellows, alumni and other JCRC-NY community partners – as common issues of concern and crisis arise throughout the city in order to find solutions effectively together.

Applicant Eligibility

- Professional at a nonprofit, faith-based, community or government organization serving New York City
- Dedicated to improving and serving communities in New York City
- Committed to and have a demonstrated record of promoting inclusion and diversity
- History of civic participation and leadership
- Possess proven leadership qualities, a passion to help strengthen community, and a clear vision for the future
- Highly motivated to improve professional development and personal growth
